For the Love of Fashion:
The Haute Xperience Fashion Show
Has finally arrived

Atlanta, GA— September 26, 2022 — It was announced today tickets were selling fast for the 2022 Fall and Winter runway showcase “For the Love of Fashion: Haute Xperience Fashion show,” brought to you live and direct by two minority and women-owned businesses collaborating to further heighten creative opportunities in its Southeast corridor. Lionslove Entertainment & Love E Fashion will be premiering their first bi-annual Haute Xperience Fashion show and more. Sunday, October 16, 2022, from 3pm -7pm.

“I am so excited to have this opportunity to bring local boutiques, small businesses and designers together to showcase their brands and to network on the Southeast side of Atlanta,” says Jai Tanner, founder of Lionslove Entertainment. “It warms my heart to know that the entire production team resides in Henry County. The goal is to continue to love, care and share in business and all that we do!”

Guests attending this exclusive upscale and sophisticated Haute Xperience, will be treated to exquisite runway fashions from top local designers and boutiques, worn by some of Atlanta’s top professional models, as well as live music, shopping and more. The Haute Xperience will be hosted by the Janet Jackson-Gordon, Founder of Boss Chix Atlanta, it is also noted Atlanta musician Teddy White, will serve as the musical director of its all-star band; while Author, Elam B. King, will serve as co-host. Live music will be featured by Grammy Award-winning producer, Juls Baby. Awards will also be presented honoring Kenneth Daniels as designer of the Year, Rachel Mathews as Social Media Fashion Influencer and Cedric Brown as the Rising Star. The Fashion on Purpose award will be presented to a local Atlantan who always makes a fashion statement when entering the room.

With the consistent fast-paced growth of Atlanta becoming the southeastern cultural hub for business, arts, fashion, and entertainment, this exclusive red-carpet event will easily bring even more positive contributions, and opportunities to the Southeast region. The Haute Xperience Fashion show is scheduled to take place at the Luxurious Eagles Landing Country Club located in Stockbridge, GA just 15 miles southeast of Atlanta. Per Jai Tanner the goal of the Haute Xperience is to create real networking opportunities by providing businesses, brands, and consumers exposure, growth, recognition, and love all while celebrating black excellence.
